CANTON GIVES WARM WELCOME TO H.K. GOVERNOR

Sir Geoffrey Northcote Sees Devastated Areas

TARANTULA ARRIVES FEW MINUTES AFTER ALL-CLEAR SIGNAL GIVEN

Canton, July 21.
Arriving aboard H.M.S. Tarantula only five minutes after the all-clear signal was sounded following a Japanese air raid on Sai-chuen and Tienho aerodrome, His Excellency Sir Geoffrey Northcote, Governor of Hong Kong, accompanied by Lady Northcote, was greeted at Shameen by a large gathering including the British Consul-General, Mr. A. P. Blunt, and representatives of General Wu Ts-chen, Governor of Kwangtung, General Yu Han-mou, Pacification Commissioner, Mayor Tseng Yang-fu, and Dr. Philip Tsau, Special Commissioner for Foreign Affairs.

Canton was gaily bedecked with crossed Union Jacks and China's national flags everywhere to extend a hearty welcome to Sir Geoffrey and Lady Northcote.

After a brief rest in the British Consulate-General, Sir Geoffrey inspected many areas in Canton devastated by Japanese air bombings and was much impressed by the scenes. He was accompanied by Mr. Blunt.

DINNER PARTY

At eight o'clock this evening, Sir Geoffrey attended a dinner given in his honour by Generals Wu Ts-chen and Yu Han-mou. During the function, the British National anthem was played and a toast was proposed by the hosts to the health of Their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth.

Amid great applause, Sir Geoffrey proposed a toast to the health of Mr. Lin Sen, Chairman of the National Government.

Tomorrow morning, Sir Geoffrey will pay informal calls on Generals Yu and Wu, who will return the calls in the same forenoon.

His Excellency will have lunch with the Mayor of Canton who has also invited the foreign Consular Body to the luncheon.

St. John's, Newfoundland, July 21.
A radio message from the Mercury, the upper part of the Mayo composite plane, which left Foynes Harbour yesterday for her trans-Atlantic flight stated that she arrived over Cape Bauld at 9.29 B.S.T. and thus crossed the Atlantic from Foynes in 13 hours 29 minutes as compared to the 14 hours 24 minutes taken by the Imperial Airways flyingboat, Cambria, from Foynes to Botwood. ### "Offer Gold" Campaign For Colony

Following the example of their countrymen in China proper, Chinese residents here will launch an "Offer Gold" movement from August 4 to 14 under the auspices of the local Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, says Central News.

Detailed plans for the movement were discussed at a meeting of the Relief Committee of the Chamber yesterday.

According to the plans, money of all kinds, gold and other metals will be accepted. Donation boxes will be placed at vantage points in Hong Kong and Kowloon.

It is expected that at least $1,000,000 will be received.

Several successful separations in flight took place. They were made at a height of less than 3,000 feet and demonstrated effectively that

Spanish War Front

Paris, July 21.
A new Nationalist offensive has been launched on the front where the Republican territory is nearest to the Portuguese frontier, according to reports from French war correspondents this morning.

The offensive is being carried out by two columns commanded by the Generals Quespo de Llano and Saliquet who, by advancing from the north and the south, are attempting to close the jaws of the pincers on the salient of Don Benito.

General de Llano is marching south from Logrosan and General Saliquet north from Peraleda on a front 120 kilometres wide. The Nationalist command hopes that the speed of operations will enable the Nationalist troops to cut the Loyalists off from their communications.

The Republicans offered resistance on the first day when the Nationalists captured Castuera, a town of 20,000 inhabitants, which has been the seat of the Loyalist Provincial Government of Extremadura since the fall of Badajoz. (Transocean).

CHINESE SPOKESMAN RIDICULES CLAIM OF JAPANESE REPORT

Hankow, July 21.
Japanese claims that several of their planes during the bombing raid of Nanchang on July 19 landed in the centre of the Chinese aerodrome and set fire to seven Chinese machines on the ground were ridiculed by a Chinese spokesman in an interview yesterday. He pointed out that it was quite unthinkable that under the watchful eyes of the Chinese troops in the aerodrome, the Japanese fliers could have successfully evaded the concentrated fire of the defenders and landed in safety on hostile ground.

"The whole thing is downright nonsense," he said.

The spokesman recalled that during the Nanchang raid, the Japanese planes dived to a dangerously low altitude to strafe the aerodrome and exposed themselves to the attack of waiting Chinese planes which swooped down from their hidden heights.

Lieutenant Nango's plane was riddled with machine-gun bullets and crashed to the ground together with three other machines. It was also not true that Nango's plane was hit by a burning Chinese plane.

With the death of Lieutenant Nango, the spokesman said, has gone the last of the four most able Japanese airmen, who were known in Japan as the "Four Devils of the Air." The other three, Lieutenants Yamashita, Shirai and Fujida, were all killed in dogfights with the Chinese air force at various places. (Central News).

LUNCHEON IN FAMOUS HALL OF MIRRORS

Versailles, July 21.
Guns boomed in salute as King George arrived here to witness a great pageant of the fighting forces of France, including between forty and fifty thousand and six hundred planes, at Satory.

The saluting base near the Town Hall was decorated with flags of the two nations and banks of flowers flanked two 75-millimetre guns. The King's procession to the base was led by colourful mounted Spahis and the band.

When he left Paris, the King looked rather tired. His Majesty was accompanied by President Lebrun and the British Foreign Secretary, Lord Halifax, who were in earnest conversation.

ALL-STAR THEATRICALS FOR WAR RELIEF FUNDS

The Hong Kong public will be afforded the opportunity of witnessing on the stage the cream of South China's movie, singing and theatrical talent on three consecutive evenings commencing tomorrow, Sunday and Monday when a variety programme consisting of ancient and modern Chinese songs, plays, music, and dances will be rendered at the Tai Ping Theatre.

Mr. Ma Tse-tsang, Mr. Shi Kok-sin, Miss Violet Lung (Tse Lor-lan), Miss Chan Wan-sheung, Mr. Pak Koi-wing, Miss Lee Yee-hin and many others have all consented to take part in this variety programme which has been organised by the Hong Kong Chinese Women's Soldiers' Relief Association in co-operation with the United Artists' Association, to raise funds for relief work.

The programme, incidentally, will include an act which has never before been performed before the public here. As is well known, Mr. Ma Tse-tsang and Mr. Shi Kok-sin, leading artists in local Chinese theatricals, have never before performed together. They will, however, on these three nights appear together in a playlet, Mr. Ma as the hero and Mr. Shi as the heroine.

Tribute Paid To Chinese Troops

London, July 21.

General Falkenhäusen, who was one of the German military advisers to the Chinese Government and who is on his way to Germany, told the Daily Herald correspondent at Singapore that the European Powers greatly over-estimate the Japanese war machine which now lacks the pre-war unity.

The German General paid tribute to the excellence of the Chinese troops and believed that China will last for a long time. General Falkenhäusen stated that he might return to China later. (Reuter).

OBTAINED MONEY BY FALSE PRETENCES

Provision Supplier Found Guilty At Sessions

Convicted on three charges of obtaining money by false pretences from three bean-curd dealers, Ng Yuk-ming, provision supplier, was sentenced to 18 months' hard labour by the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice H. E. Lindell, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday.

Accused was charged with having defrauded Mo Shing-kee, Hung Shiu-wah and Ho Yuet, bean-curd dealers of Kowloon City, of $18, $12, $15 respectively, by pretending to be in a position to induce a Sanitary Inspector to permit them to carry on their trade.

Mr. J. Whyatt, Crown Counsel, appeared for the prosecution, and accused was represented by Mr. D. J. N. Anderson, instructed by Mr. M. A. da Silva.

The following Jury heard the case: Messrs. W. Hyde (Foreman), Sing Wu-cheng, A. P. Rosario, Chan Kwok-chiu, Chan Kiu-fan, J. B. Pomeroy and J. P. Inglis.

The case began on Wednesday and further evidence was called yesterday for the Crown.

NO DEFENCE EVIDENCE

No evidence was called on behalf of the defence, and Mr. Whyatt, in his final address, pointed out that not a single question had been put to the victims that what they had stated in the witness-box was untrue or that they did not pay the money to accused. There was no reason why they should have paid over the money, other than that they believed accused was a man who had some influence with those authority who could ensure the carrying on of their business.

Mr. Anderson submitted that the testimony of the victims was unreliable and that the Crown had failed to prove that accused's representation was a false one. In fact, Counsel contended, the evidence showed his client was able to induce a Sanitary Inspector to permit them to carry on their trade, for if he was not, he would not have given them his card which bore his address and asked them to go to his house.

ACCUSED'S CONDUCT

Mr. Whyatt interrupted to point out that no suggestion of this sort had been put to Mr. Bowden, who was in charge of the district.

Continuing, Mr. Anderson said that the transactions between accused and his alleged victims were all along on the footing that if any trouble arose they were to go to him. Was that the conduct of a person who was unable to induce a Sanitary Inspector to permit them to carry on their business?

ATTACK ON INSPECTOR

In the course of his summing-up, His Lordship observed that through his Counsel, accused had made an attack on the Sanitary Inspector. Accused was the only person who could say, if it was true, that it was the Inspector who had received the money, and yet he did not come to the witness-box and say it. This was a point the Jury might well consider. Further, it had been contended that accused's conduct was open and free. This was true, but it appeared from the evidence that when trouble arose he could not be found in the address he had given.

Without retiring, the Jury found prisoner guilty.

Passing sentence, His Lordship said: "The Jury had no difficulty in finding you guilty. I agree with them as the evidence clearly disclosed you were engaged in a systematic fraud on unfortunate and illiterate bean-curd makers. The amount you got was not very large but that does not alter the enormity of your offence."

SHIP MASTER CAUTIONED

Overloading His Steamer

"The same offence twice in three days. I'll have to fine you $500 or six months," said the Hon. Comdr. G. F. Hole to Capt. J. McCool at the Marine Court yesterday when the latter was summoned for having, on July 20, overloaded his ship.

Boarding Officer D. G. Cairns of the Harbour Office appeared as complainant.

After Capt. McCool had pleaded the Magistrate asked:

"Didn't you appear before me on a similar charge several days ago?" Defendant replied in the affirmative.

"Well, really, Captain McCool, I think that this time I will have to make it a bit heavier," said the Magistrate.

The Magistrate warned Captain McCool that if he continued to endanger the lives of passengers in his ship, he would recommend to the Harbour Master that a special court be summoned to deal with his master's certificate or, on the alternative, he would have to recommend to the Governor that the certificate be cancelled.

MORE CHOLERA CASES

Six cases of cholera were reported to the local health authorities on Wednesday, bringing the total to 129 cases.

Other diseases notified on Wednesday were four cases each of dysentery and enteric fever and one case of cerebro-spinal meningitis.

FORGED PASSAGE TICKET

Two coolies and a travelling trader, Chan Ming, Cheung and Ma Sau, appeared before Mr. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday on a charge of uttering a forged complimentary passage ticket of the Sze Yip Shipping Company.

Mr. C. Y. Kwan appeared on behalf of the complainant firm, and Detective-Sergeant J. Hunter was in charge of the case.

Mr. Kwan said the prosecution offered no evidence against the first defendant, who was then discharged.

Outlining the facts Mr. Kwan said that certain officials of the Company were given authority to issue complimentary passage tickets, and the Assistant Manager, Ma Hung-chee, was one of them.

On July 8, second defendant gave a forged ticket to first defendant to dispose of for him. The Company's officials got to know of it, informed the guard and had the three arrested.

After further evidence was given the case was adjourned till today.

UNIQUE WAY OF STEALING

Dipped Cloth Into Oil

A gang who were alleged to have been responsible for a number of snatching cases in the West Point district near the water front, was rounded up by police and charged before Mr. Butters at the Central Court yesterday with stealing 309 catties of wood oil, valued at $123.60, from a cargo junk.

Detective-Sergeant R. Macvey, who was in charge of the case, told the Court that the men used to carry baggages for passengers coming off from ships and snatching ear rings. They had now gone to the extent of stealing goods from cargo junks.

On Wednesday morning, the gang rushed on to a junk with a bundle of cloth, soaked this into the wood oil and squeezed it into their own tins.

Two Indian constables who were detailed to look after the cargo were helpless against the ruffians, until more police were dispatched when the eight men were arrested.

Six of these men were given six weeks' imprisonment. One, Li Kwan, who had two previous convictions was given three months' hard labour, while Li Yee, who denied the charge of breach of the Deportation Ordinance, was remanded until today.

SHANGHAI MEN IN TROUBLE

Stoker Assaulted

Convicted on a charge of assault on a stoker, two Shanghai seamen, Chow Sui-long and Ho Lo-kuo, were yesterday fined $30 each and were ordered to be bound over in the sum of $20 each to be of good behaviour for six months.

Mr. D. MacCallum appeared for the defence and Mr. Hin-shing Lo appeared on behalf of the stoker, Shung Ching-wan. Detective-Sergeant C. Dowman was present for the police.

It was stated that a man named Chow Ah-fat confronted complainant on July 14, and asked for a loan of $200, and threatened that if the loan was not forthcoming he would beat up the complainant.

At No. 32, Gilman Bazaar, where it was being run as an opium den, Chow Ah-fat found complainant and directed his friends, including the defendants, to assault Shung, causing injuries to his head.

CONFIDE IN FAITH PRIOR

WHAT AM I wishes to know what nationality she is. Her great-grandparents were Welsh. Grandmother and mother were born in London, her grandfather in Boston, Mass., and her father in Mexico. Her husband was born in New Orleans. Her baby was born in California.

For all legal purposes you are in all probability an American, and to is your baby. From the standpoint of blood, it is what you mean by nationality, when you take into consideration that you and your husband have each eight great-grandparents, making sixteen for your baby to draw from in choosing the one he wants to be descended from, you'll have to set up a family tree to determine the question accurately from a genealogical standpoint.

Most Americans, I believe, choose one line of great grandparents for the record and just rise above the others. But all the others are of equal weight when it comes to being conscientious about it. For instance you say your great-grandparents were Welsh. That accounts for only two of them. How about the other six?

BRIDE OF A YEAR: "My husband wants to go fishing alone. It would be the first time we've been separated. Do you think it means he is tiring of my company? I get polio oak, hate mosquitoes and roughing it, so of course he won't ask me to go, but we both could go somewhere else. What do you think?"

The lure of a fishing rod for a man is something very few women understand. When a man hunts or fishes he is unconsciously reassuring himself of his primitive prowess to look after himself. It is good for his soul as well as his body, and even a loving husband might need a period of self investigation and thinking things out. Fishing seems to afford the creature this opportunity.

There are secret chambers in the make up of every man which a woman may only enter at her own peril. When a man takes out his primitive instincts on a fishing rod, or a fowling piece, or by digging in a garden or building a boat, let him alone. He is normal and safe, and will make a more civilised husband for having a natural safety-valve when the inevitable Red Gods sing their spring song in his ear and stir his blood.

Why not trot off yourself somewhere for a few hours or days, and then both of you will come back with renewed interest in each other, and something to talk about.

OBJECTOR TO MAKE-UP objects to his fiancée using lipstick and bright red nail polish; he asks if he is wrong, and for some helpful words on the subject, which is causing quarrels.

Couples usually wreck their happiness on small arguments that rise into quarrels and cause antagonism impossible to forget. The big troubles of life will often bind two people closer in mutual understanding and support against a common foe. I feel you are too excessive in your demands on your fiancée, just as she is far too excessive in her uses of the things described by yourself. Give and take is the right idea, and moderation is a virtue not often known to the young.

Conspicuous nails, lips or any form of personal decoration are in very bad taste, indeed, and that is the only standard by which such decorations can be judged. To call uneasy attention to oneself with garish display is surely a confession of not being able to attract in any other way. The wrong is not in lipstick and paint, but the excessive uses to which they are put. Even virtue can be excessive when it becomes a vice. So see if you cannot agree to meet each other halfway and be friendly.

TWENTY-EIGHT is suffering as anyone would with love apparently grown cold in the other party.

It is hard to face, but many of us have to face the plain facts when hurt and anguished by that sort of loss. It is obvious that he has lost all love for you, or has met someone else, which results in the same thing. Try to realize that, if he wanted you, he would write and nothing would prevent his seeing you. And for you to marry someone not loving you, would give you far more heartache. Face the issue, which is not uncommon, and make your life anew. Courage will help you break the habit of having him in your life, and after the fight you will see clarity and wisdom.

DEAR FAITH: My mother and father are now separated, through mutual consent, after a life together of twenty years.

Each of them desires me to live with them. I would prefer to live with my father. What should I do? I am seventeen years of age.—Undecided.

Dear Undecided: It is indeed sad to see a rift in the household and especially between your parents.

Have you attempted to bring them together again? Maybe you could do so if you studied the situation carefully.

Otherwise, it would be best for you to live with your father, if that is where you will be the happiest and most comfortable. However, I should advise you to try and live six months out of the year with your mother. A girl needs a mother when she is your age. Be kind and sweet to both parents, and commence to make your own life. Try and see your way to spend equal lengths of time with each of them.

Round The Shops

Up and about early these hot mornings to discover that the ships stopping by have brought new shipments of apparel for m'ladies. There is nothing like a new outfit to give you a thrill during a mid-summer season.

Day & Play Tops

One of the super specialty shops has just received new styles from America and is giving all of us a break when they marked them in with their present sale prices.

Sensible, tough, tough and sturdy are the familiar words for summer play and day clothes.

A beige crash linen two-piece play suit, with dark brown wood buttons on the small bolero, will delight you as a new playtime costume.

Cullottes—as you have been reading and hearing—are back in the fashion picture with a bang! This same shop has a few of these in a black linen effect pattern, the neck following the over-all style, very cool and smart. They will take care of any occasion calling for play, relaxation or athletic activities.

Cotton lace day dresses will help you out with a little "air-conditioning." The colour range is bright, tailoring quite plain, and oh! the comfort in these dresses!

Head To Toes

A small popular specialty shop can now give you a pair of "Berkshire" hose. The "Chipmunk" shade wears well with the new dark background prints and sheers. Ringless and a dull crepe are the features you find in this new line.

Do you want to feel exotic? Demure? Or boldly sophisticated?

Go in for a very fine straw cart-wheel hat in the dark shade. No trim but a ribbon at the crown perhaps. Let the texture of the straw and the hugeness of the brim make the style for you. These hats are worn to advantage with plain dresses and heavy jewelry accessories. You will be surprised the various moods you can command for yourself wearing such chapeaus.

Hold It In!

All of you hang your heads in shame if you let this hot sticky weather get you down when it comes to wearing a girdle or foundation garment.

The new costumes need symmetrical foundations to hang themselves on or you cannot do justice to them.

One of the larger stores will call your excuse of "the price is too high." This establishment is offering a very splendid sale of "Airtex" and "Gossard" girdles, foundations, brassieres and panty girdles.

If you are going in for wholesale dres in the middle pull yourself into a girdle. If your stomach is likely to meet your bust when you relax or lol, pack yourself into a foundation. And if your busties are sagging help them out with a good brassiere.

When indulging in active sports you will not tire so quickly if you have some support. The two lastest girdles are made just for that. One with a detachable crotch and the other with removable garters.

And all of these are in the sale.

Linen Bags

Germany and Austria have come forth with the attractive bags which you can just about carry everything in but your kitchen stove.

Made of a fine linen, these bags are offered in white and bright colour combinations. Straw thread, silk braid made into designs, and small coloured wooden flowers are a few of the trims. Of course, they all have zippers. The inside is of linen, and you will find the coin purse, mirror and such.

The prices are maybe an extravagance for some of you, but if you indulge you will always enjoy these very new and different imports.

Sheer—Coolness

One of Kowloon's specialty shops "has something" when it comes to sheers.

So very smart—the new sheer dresses in this shop. Black mar- quette embroidered with a white

THE "GOING PLACES" WARDROBE

A great many people are on the go this mid-summer. You have a ticket reading north, south, east or west? A long or short trip? If you are going to cover territory in a big way it's best to do all your clothes-thinking before you start. Then your mind is free to enjoy the sights.

When you embark on a boat, a train or a plane, you are completely divorced from your routine background. Travel throws you into a delicious incognito and thus you are more yourself than ever—and remember chic travelling clothes are extremely individual.

Start out with a non-crushable suit. It should be a wrinkle-proof, crush-proof dress with its own jacket. If the weather is too hot the jacket may be removed and there is a good looking dress underneath. When you run into chilly weather there's always the top coat to put on over this suit. On yes, you just have to have a top coat, and it should be either a tweedy mixture or a beige one. Either is serviceable.

DARK BLUE SHANTUNG

Some travellers swear by shantung. It is very good looking and wears well. A dark blue suit of this material will do you justice.

Again cocoa-brown or dark blue non-crushable linen made into a suit will fill the bill. But never, never have the print suit in your travel wardrobe—it is very un-smart!

Your sport clothes must be casual and very eye-taking. You are limited in "packing space," remember! Sharkskin shorts and blouse with monogram are most useful. With these you can use various trick scarfs. And don't forget culottes—they are back in the sport picture with headlines. It is the classic outfit of short-skirt-skirt (and please keep the top three buttons fastened).

Barbara Stanwyck denotes travel smartness in this black Canton silk crepe jacket ensemble with white pique trim and flowers.

flower, black and white grosgrain ribbon belt, sleeve and neck trim. Another in dark navy, lightweight georgette, with white embroidery work and white crepe collar.

The selection is outstanding, the prices very reasonable and just what you need for the rest of the summer days, as darker backgrounds are coming in fast on the fashion tide.

The fluffy-duffy party dresses are still being worn. This same shop's stock will make you oh! and ah!

Any of their selections would prove priceless to you as "a good time dress" and the actual cost is very little.

(Any information pertaining to these items may be obtained from Barbara Lee, 30251, or enclose a self-addressed envelope to The Daily Press.)

SATIN SWIM SUITS

Of course you have space for a two-way stretch satin latex swim suit. This should be in black or white and backless. After you have worn this suit have it rinsed out and dried in a towel. It will retain its snugness better. The compliment to the bathing suit, should be the old friend sweatshirt made cardigan style, or a porters coat of towelling. And go in for your name embroidered on both, up the sleeve, across a pocket or down the shoulder—very, very casual, please.

You will be doing plenty in the line of "tripping the light fantastic," and quite a few evening dresses will be necessary. You can use those which you wear at home these summer evenings. But there are three musts, and no matter what colouring you are.

A black lace dinner dress, preferably with a jacket, will give you a two-occasion gown. Next, a white chiffon, formal cut but very plain and simple in line. Let the chiffon create the dash. And the latest hit which will put you in top place is a gray chiffon dance dress. With this wear a spiked coral necklace and two bracelets. It will be "ou-la-la."

Of course, gorgandy and dotted Swiss are very good, but give a thought to the ironing.

AFTERNOON DRESSES

Your bags should be half packed now, but leave space for several afternoon dresses. Use plenty of colour for these. Pale yellow crepe with a turquoise trim, and have the skirt gored or pleated. A purple acetate, simple lines, with grass green trim, is very new, and luggage can pop back into the fashion colour scheme.

You are just about ready to have the smash snap the catches and turn the key, but wait just a minute. Put in several pairs of doekin gloves, many pairs of angora socks and, don't forget those rope soled espadrilles.

Are the lingerie cases, which are made in dark brown shantung, lined and piped in pink Chinese silk, well scented? And do not forget the travelling robe of the same material, trim, severely tailored.

Use the duffle bag of leather or elk hide for all those extra shoes which should have their own bags.

BEAUTY AIDS

Make sure that your "travelling beauty shop case" is complete, with all the lotions, creams, soap, toilet water, perfume, manicure equipment, powders, plenty of tissue and a good hair brush and comb, plus a good make of brillantine. The last is most necessary when in the sea air or dusty interior motor roads or sooty railways.

Now mentally review the packed bags. The trouble with most of the travellers is that they start out with suitcases bulging with clothes, and then after the first two days of the trip they narrow the wardrobe to two or three costumes which prove worthy.

The rest of the stuff is excess baggage of the worst sort, because it can't be ditched along the line. Many a woman who has taken and brought back countless outfits without ever taking them out of her grip. Don't be one of them.

WEAR THE RIGHT THINGS

Be smart! Instead of buying a great many things, concentrate on a few good costumes. Then wear them to advantage.

What kind of a trip or vacation do you have to be going on to take this long-lecture to heart? Why— you should be going to such places as these: Baguio, by Clipper, a jaunt to Indo-China, that ten-day round trip to Japan, or a nine-week junket to Australia by the M. V. Neptune, that "honey" of a ship.

No matter what destination is yours, travel light and be absolutely right in your wardrobe selection.

Keep Fit With Beach Games

Beach games are fun. They are healthy and can be made the medium of valuable fitness exercises, nicely concealed behind play, like the pill concealed in the spoonful of jam!

There is no necessity to do involved gymnastic exercises on the beach, for lots of quite ordinary, amusing games will give you just as much benefit if you play them properly.

Most people enjoy throwing a large beach ball about from one to another. You can make this still more amusing and much better exercise if you make it a rule that knees must be kept straight while throwing or retrieving the ball.

The efforts of the players to avoid bending their knees will amuse the onlookers, probably, but the players, themselves, are doing excellent trunk bending and swaying exercises which tone up and strengthen the abdominal muscles.

FOR BALANCE

Another favourite beach game consists of trying to walk along a line drawn on the sand. Instead of a straight line draw a wavy, circular one.

Make the players walk along this with the arms held out at either side, balancing a small pail of sand or water on each upturned palm. A prize goes to those who walk the line without stepping once off it.

FOR THE WAISTLINE

Here is a waist exercise, and a slimming one at that. A razor shell can be used for this game. Stand with the feet close together and keep the knees straight. Now bend downwards and with the shell try to draw a circle round yourself. Tired? You need this exercise. Do more of it.

FOOLS FOR SCANDAL

Fernand Gravel, the King of "The King and the Chorus Girl," last year's unusual hit, appears today at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres in his latest picture, "Fools for Scandal."

He has the assistance of Carole Lombard in this film of gay Paree, of those famous gay spots in that city of dreams, and of the music and laughter of the French.

Gravel plays the role of an impoverished baron who is thrown into the company of an American movie star on the visit to the French capital—and the fun that the two have, and also the scrapes, make up a really fine musical production.

TRUST-BUSTING EXTENDS TO FILM INDUSTRY

New York, July 21.

The Federal Government has filed anti-trust suits against all the major motion picture producers, asking for the segregation of theatre ownership and also seeking permanent injunctions to restrain all discriminatory practices against independent producers and exhibitors.

The Department of Justice, in announcing issuance of the writs, states that it has concluded that free competition, both in the production and exhibition of motion pictures, should be restored, and the most direct course is to divorce production from exhibition.

Although a suit of this magnitude may take years to settle, amusement shares on the New York Stock Exchange have fallen from one to four points.

The U.S. Attorney General, Mr. Homer S. Cummings, charges eight major film companies, against whom the suit has been brought, with virtually monopolizing the film industry.—(Reuter).

THIS IS AMERICA OR SOME OF IT

DAIRMEN at Hayward, California, on a farm three miles from the sea, called Game Warden Fred Rogers at 2 a.m. the other day to report that a seal was following in the cow pasture. When they refused to take his advice to sleep it off, Rogers came out with a gun, and there, sure enough, three miles inland, was a 400 lb seal.

They persuaded the seal to get on the road, and at 4 a.m., by lantern light, he started the long trek to the sea. By the time dawn had put in an appearance there was such a crowd cheering him on that motor cycle police were called out to escort him. As the crowd grew, hot dog wagon came along to sell breakfast, the members of the town band rushed home for their uniforms and instruments, two or three shopkeepers hoisted flags, and at the electric light plant the engineer on duty kept blowing the whistle. Encouraged by all this the seal flapped to a faster stroke, and reports say that coming down the straight he was doing a snappy 120. By the time he crossed the finishing line and dropped into the sea amid the blaring of the band, the shrieking of the whistle and the cheering of the crowd, he had hit 125, and close observers say he still had plenty in reserve.

What The Stars Are Doing

M-G-M is getting "The Bad Man from Arizona" ready for Wallace Beery to follow up his success in "The Bad Man of Brimstone." The scenes will be filmed in the Arizona desert.

Harold Lloyd has chosen "The Veterinarian" for his next picture after "Professor, Beware." The story is his own idea and will go into preparation as soon as his present picture is finished.

Shirley Ross and Tito Guizar, both seen in "The Big Broadcast of 1938," head the cast of "St. Louis Blues." Paramount musical migration between Broadway and the Mississippi.

Apparently Alistair Cooke is not set for certain as "March of Time's" British commentator. Various voices are being tried and opinions sought from exhibitors.

Sonja Henie is reported to have asked $500 for each of six appearances at Madison Square Garden. The manager thought it too stiff and offered her 40 per cent of the profits. She accepted and her share, $8,500, turned out to be nearly three times more than she had asked.

Warners earnestly hope Paul Muni will agree to do "The Sea Wolf" for them when he returns from his trip. The Jack London adventure story is their answer to his demand for non-biographical parts.

AFTER she had sneezed for three days in the Alameda County Hospital Mrs. Betty Grose, 24, developed a whistling ear. She sneezed every 20 seconds, and every three minutes her ear whistled for 10 seconds. Doctors said they thought she had broken an ear drum.

SEVENTY days before Easter, on his farm in Illinois, Mr. George Black started taking orders from people who wanted eggs with coloured yolks—real eggs, with real yolks.

He has two hens on a special diet; and after 10 days on the diet, which varies with the colour of yolk you desire, the hens lay eggs with yolks of that colour. "There is no difference in taste," says Black, "and you can eat the eggs with no danger of poisoning. They and colour, too, when used as a garnish."

AT POLICE headquarters in San Francisco Constable Mervin Pratt talked about the tricks of criminals. "I'm Lieutenant McConnell, of the Plainclothes Branch," said the man he was talking to. "And I tell you, I've had some queer experiences. Only yesterday a fellow pulled this trick on me—here—lend me a dollar. I'll show you." He folded Constable Pratt's silver dollar in his handkerchief, said "Hey, presto!" and the dollar was gone. After the Lieutenant had departed Pratt realised he hadn't got his dollar back, so he went to the plainclothes branch. "Lieutenant McConnell here?" he asked the officer in charge. "Son, you're talking to him right now," said Lieutenant McConnell. The constable's dollar is still missing.

CHINA WAR Does Not Affect Cinemas

The war in China is not affecting the cinema trade, according to Mr. H. S. Dunn, Far East Supervisor of Warner Brothers, First National Pictures, who is in Singapore at the moment, in the course of a tour of Warner's offices.

"The Adventures of Robin Hood" in spite of the war broke the box-office record in Shanghai at the Cathay Theatre.

Some people, he says, do not like the night shows in Shanghai now on account of the curfew hour, but day shows make up for this.

Mr. Dunn says he has the intention of making Singapore one of

WAR MINISTER CONFERS WITH EMPEROR, CALLS HIGH MILITARY LEADERS

Tokyo, July 21.

A new alleged incident on the Manchukuo border has given rise to considerable anxiety and excitement here.

It is reported that two Japanese officers bearing the white flag of truce, who crossed the Soviet-Manchukuo border with a note from the Manchukuoan and Japanese military authorities demanding the re-establishment of the previous situation in the region of the Changkaofeng mountain, have not been heard from for over 50 hours.

EXTREMELY SERIOUS
Reports that further Soviet troops have been stationed near Changkaofeng have ushered in extensive consultations here between high authorities. This fact shows that the situation is regarded as extremely serious.

According to the Japanese reports the Soviet have brought heavy machine-guns and rapid firing guns into position in the Changkaofeng region. Soviet artillery, moreover, is said to have been brought into position at the mouth of the Tumen River, which forms the frontier between Korea and the Soviet Union.

Mechanised units are furthermore said to have left Novokievsk and Slavyanka, and a column of 80 lorries with Soviet troops is alleged to have left Slavyanka for Matita yesterday morning.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCES
It is impossible to obtain any information as to whether the Japanese authorities have decided to take military measures.

The Minister of War, General Itagaki, discussed the situation with the Foreign Minister, General Ugaki, yesterday afternoon. The conference lasted two hours. Immediately after the conference General Itagaki was received by the Emperor. The fact that the General remained at the Imperial Palace for nearly two hours is regarded as extremely significant in political quarters here.

After leaving the palace General Itagaki immediately convoked a conference of the highest officers of the War Ministry.

The comment of the Japanese press leaves no doubt that the tension which has arisen on the frontier between the Soviet Union, Korea and Manchukuo has created an extremely grave situation. (Transocean).

NO AGREEMENT

RECORD YEAR FOR INSURANCE COMPANY

National Mutual's Good Showing

The National Mutual Life Association of Australasia, Ltd. again had a record year in 1937, 34,020 new policies being issued for £12,193,321. The membership is now over 255,000, and the amount of assurances in force is £106,116,039.

The triennial period ending in 1937 reveals the fact that £42,794,133 of members' money is in hand, which is over 40 per cent. of the amount assured.

The Association began in 1899 without capital, its first money being £6,010, the first premium paid on the opening day. This has grown to £42,000,000 or, including £1,130,587 in the Investment Fluctuation reserve, nearly £44,000,000.

REMARKABLE RECORD

The Association record is remarkable. It has received £73,000,000 in premiums and £34,000,000 in interest. It has paid policy holders £31,000,000. In claims, £39,560,000 has been paid, about equally in the case of death claims and endowment assurance maturity claims.

In 1937, £1,911,008 was added to the funds as profit, and most of this was apportioned to members as bonuses, which were revised to balance up interim bonuses already paid, making a total of £3,031,834 for the three years 1935, 1936 and 1937, and £204,412 was added to the Investment Fluctuation fund which now totals £1,335,000.

NON-FORFEITURE CLAUSE

As the only shareholders are the members, all receive benefits in equal proportion according to their policies, and members are protected in their insurances to the utmost possible limit by means of the non-forfeiture clause, which was begun by this Association and has been followed to some extent by other companies. Under this clause, members are automatically secured to the last cent of the value of their policies.

CONSOLIDATION OF KWANGTUNG GOVERNMENT

(From Our Own Correspondent) In an effort to consolidate the government machinery and to put Kwangtung on a war time basis, General Wu Te-chen, Chairman of the Kwangtung Provincial Government, will shortly call a meeting of administrative executives of the various districts and district magistrates to put his plan into effect.

This plan is practical and comprehensive, being the result of exhaustive study by General Wu. Another feature of the project is the forming of a graduate school for district magistrates and a general institute for the training of public servants, so that they may hold permanent posts like the British Civil Service.

PRIZEGIVING AT GUN CLUB HILL

Garrison Infants' School Function

The annual prize-giving of the Kowloon Garrison Infants' School took place yesterday at Gun Club Hill. Among the many present were Major H. H. Joseph, A.E.C., and Mrs. J. C. L. Yale, who distributed the prizes.

Before Mrs. Yale was called upon to give away the prizes, the pupils rendered songs, a recitation and a short playlet entitled "The King's Breakfast," by A. A. Milne. In the course of her report, the Headmistress, Miss M. E. Guard, said that the school had had a successful year, and was continuing to progress.

The school children were entertained by the staff at a Christmas Tree Party last year.

Miss Freeman's departure for home was regretted, and the hope that she would return after a happy sojourn in England was expressed.

SCHOOL HOURS INCREASED

This year, the hours of attendance in the school had been increased to twenty-four hours per week, and this change would be maintained throughout the year.

Before giving away the prizes, Mrs. Yale said that she would like to take the opportunity to congratulate Major Joseph, the headmistress and others concerned for belonging to such a good school. All garrison schools were good, she said, but the Kowloon Infants' School was certainly something to be proud of.

A basket of flowers was presented to Mrs. Yale by a small girl.

BRITONS LEAVE KIUKIANG

Situation Said To Be Quiet

According to a report received yesterday from reliable foreign sources, all Britons, with the exception of a small party of missionaries, have now evacuated Kiukiang and are at present living aboard "Butterfield" and "Swire's 'Wenchow'" which is anchored a few miles above the port, states The Central China Post of July 13. H.M.S. Cockchafer remains in her present position off Kiukiang.

MAJORITY OF CHINESE GONE

Although there is naturally a feeling of tension generally with the Japanese only comparatively a few miles down river, the situation may be described as quiet, but the majority of Chinese have left.

Representatives of firms having property and other interests in Kiukiang will probably leave the "Wenchow" for a few hours daily and go ashore to attend to whatever may be necessary and collect mail.

The report adds that the rumours of alarming incidents having occurred there on Sunday are incorrect. No Japanese vessels have been seen in the vicinity.

A memorial service was held in Shanghai recently for the late Joint Manager of the Kailan Mining Administration, Mr. Ku Cheng, by his relatives and friends.

JAPANESE SOUTHWARD DRIVES IN SHANSI CHECKED

Shan, July 21. After forming a junction with their comrades at Kuwo, in south Shansi, the Japanese from Tsinshui, to the east, pressed southward and clashed with the Chinese defenders at Kianghsien on July 19. The Japanese, numbering about 1,000, fiercely attacked the Chinese "who tensely held their grounds."

Meanwhile, another column of about 1,000 Japanese troops from Wensu, south of Kuwo, pushed southward along the Tating-Pachow Railway and is halted north of Chiehhsien as a result of stiff Chinese resistance. (Central News)

DESIGNERS OR MORALITY

OF RECENT WEEKS there have been much comment about the Japanese navy and for this reason the remarks of Lieut.-Cdr. Kenneth Edwards, in a recent issue of the London Sunday Times are particularly interesting in that they appear to be based on more than mere guesswork. If it is true that Japan is finding that most of her newly-built vessels are top-heavy and unseaworthy we feel certain that no one is going to give her much sympathy—she deserves none.

From time immemorial the very name of Japan has been synonymous with cheapness and one is led to the conclusion that she has been bitten a second time. It has been stated that Japan, having grown weary from paying big sums for construction plans for her battle ships, decided to "copy" (we are merely being polite) the best plans submitted. What followed is, let us say, difficult to imagine. "COPIED" had plans were sent in and from these REJECTED. The initial outlay was very reasonable but the vessel so built went down in the first bad weather it encountered.

THERE may not be anything in this story at all but it is significant that the story has received a fillip from the statements of Lieut.-Cdr. Edwards. Japan has now been forced into the unhappy position of having to lighten her armament mountings, gun turrets and the like so that her vessels may be given the stability in the water. This, of course, is like drawing one's own teeth.

THE whole affair is most interesting in that it throws light on the true state of affairs in the unhappy Land of the Rising Sun as they obtain today.

BRITISH TRADE CONDITIONS IN CHINA TODAY

Varied Questions Asked In House Of Commons

London, July 21.

In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, replying to a question by Sir John Wardlaw Milne, M. P. for Kidderminster, regarding the anxiety of British shipping companies trading on the Yangtze to resume sailings, either by convoy or other naval protection, said that Lord Halifax, the Foreign Secretary, understood the position to be that firms would be glad to utilise the convoy system if they could take their ships through the boom at Kiangyin.

Replying to further questions by Sir John Wardlaw Milne, Mr. Butler said that Lord Halifax was expecting a report shortly regarding the Japanese occupation of the British owned Moller Engineering Works in Shanghai.

Sir Percy Harris (Liberal) asked what legal right the Japanese had to take possession of British property, especially in Shanghai. Mr. Butler replied that there were particular considerations regarding these works, which lay in a strategic area.

WORKING OF TARIFF

Mr. H. Day (Labour) sought a statement as to how the autonomy and tariff treaties signed by the British Government and the Chinese National Government were at present working.

Mr. Butler: "So far as we are concerned, we have continued to adhere to the principle of tariff autonomy for China, as laid down in the Tariff Autonomy Treaty of 1928. The Chinese Government continues to apply the 1931 tariff duties to areas they control. In Japanese-controlled areas the 1931 duty rates, with certain modifications, are applied."

Replying to Commander A. Marsden, the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs said that no date had yet been fixed for the restoration of the Hongkew and Yangtszepoo districts to the Municipal Council.

Further representations had been made to Tokyo on the subject.—(Reuter).

The Rev. Fr. Gallagher officiated, and amongst those present at the graveside were officers and men of deceased's Company.

A salute of three volleys was fired by the firing party following the Last Post, which was sounded by eight buglers of the Regiment.

It came out when the wife of the grandson of Former Kaiser Wilhelm was asked, as photographers' flash-lights popped and reporters' thought up questions, how they liked being interviewed in every place they went.

"Oh, we like it. You have no idea how much work it saves us," she said.

Work?" puzzled a reporter.

"Yes, work," replied Princess Kyra merrily. "We want a diary of our trip, and if it weren't for photographers and reporters, just think of the work and time we would have to take writing down our impressions."

"As it is, we just tell them the reporters—and then clip the newspapers."

before rejecting them, for it is difficult to believe that designers can be so grossly guilty of technical blunders of so glaring a nature. In the circumstances, therefore, it seems fair to ask what is the real reason—Japanese designers or Japanese morality.

LIFE, CUSTOMS OF MIXTECS AND ZAPOTECAS

ARCHAEOLOGICAL ZONES EXPLORED

FINDINGS AT MONTE ALBAN

At Tilantongo, former capital of the mighty Mixtec empire in what is now the State of Oaxaca, and for some time the site of extensive researches carried on by Mexican scholars, much information leading to a greater knowledge of the life and customs of the Mixtecs and Zapotecs has been recently brought to light.

Three archaeological zones have been explored this year, including Monte Alban and Mitlan—which have already been partly explored in the past—and a new field, Monte Negro.

The Monte Alban findings have been classified by Dr. Alfonso Caso, Director of the Expedition, as belonging to the same epoch as the Aztec civilization of the Valley of Mexico and predating the old Maya civilization of Guatemala. Now, Dr. Caso places the Monte Negro civilization as being contemporary to Monte Alban.

Besides Dr. Caso, two archaeologists, two anthropologists, and an architect, penetrated the isolated region in the northwestern part of the State of Oaxaca on horseback to reach the new Monte Negro field. This had never been explored before and even now its hidden lore has scarcely been tapped.

NEW THEORY

Although the explorations of this region were not extensive, they resulted in the formation of a new theory concerning the Mixtec and Zapotec cultures. Dr. Caso believes that there was a civilisation earlier than the Mixtec and Zapotec and that these two later developed from it.

He drew his conclusions from the similarity of the Monte Negro structures and ceramics with the first epoch of Monte Alban.

At Monte Alban, which has been under exploration by Dr. Caso since 1929, fine stone carvings were discovered on a stele and on the support over the entrance to a tomb. In this field, however, in 1932 yielded such major discoveries as rare jewels, and which later produced fine murals. Dr. Caso devoted his time to the conservation and reconstruction of what already has been found than to the search for further material.

TOMBS DETERIORATE

In Mexico's dry air these ancient tombs deteriorate rapidly once they have been opened and he feels it is more important at present to preserve those already discovered than to find new ones. Only nine tombs were opened this year, yielding nothing of superlative importance; but much work was carried on toward restoring the others to their original appearance for the benefit of the thousands of visitors who will soon be admitted to them.

At Mitla, which Dr. Caso terms the "daughter of Monte Alban" because it was built by the same Indians of Monte Alban, the most important discoveries of the year were made. Here, the ancient temples were discovered to have still another floor which had been buried in the dirt and stones which had accumulated through the centuries.

By removing this material, the former nine-foot height of the temples was increased to 27 feet and much art and decorative work was revealed in these additional rooms.

SHORT CUT TO KEEP DIARY

Prince Louis Ferdinand and his bride, the former Grand Duchess Kyra of Russia, disclosed recently that they had hit upon a labour-saving way to keep a diary of their round-the-world honeymoon trip.

It came out when the wife of the grandson of Former Kaiser Wilhelm was asked, as photographers' flash-lights popped and reporters' thought up questions, how they liked being interviewed in every place they went.

"Oh, we like it. You have no idea how much work it saves us," she said.

Work?" puzzled a reporter.

"Yes, work," replied Princess Kyra merrily. "We want a diary of our trip, and if it weren't for photographers and reporters, just think of the work and time we would have to take writing down our impressions."

"As it is, we just tell them the reporters—and then clip the newspapers."

DISCIPLINE, EDUCATION GO HAND IN HAND

TIMELY TALK TO Y'S MEN'S CLUB BY LT.-COL. MURROW

A tribute to the Chinese soldier was paid by Lieut.-Colonel H. I. Murrow, D.S.O., in the course of an interesting address on "Discipline" at the weekly tiffin of the Y's Men's Club at the St. Francis Hotel yesterday.

Foreign observers watching the Chinese troops have very great admiration for the Chinese soldier," said Lieut.-Colonel Murrow. "He is a grand fellow, and seems to be naturally disciplined."

In the absence of Mr. Peter H. Sin, Dr. F. I. Tseung presided, and Mr. William Yinson Lee, thanked the speaker on behalf of the Club.

"Discipline, like many other qualities, has undergone changes," said the speaker, "but today it is just as strict and important as ever, and just as necessary in civil life as in military."

"The Duke of Wellington was an exceptionally fine disciplinarian, in fact he had to be, as in the Peninsular War a large portion of his army were gaol birds. After the Battle of Vittoria in 1812 a stock question was asked, and that is why did the Duke of Wellington not follow up after the victory? The answer is because his army was away looting in the hills."

The Iron Duke inflicted the extreme penalty of hanging to many men and restored discipline in his army. A very different action to that taken by a Japanese officer when a friend suggested that the soldiers were out of hand. "Out of hand?" replied the officer. "They are not out of hand. They had a very, trying time and have to be allowed some compensation."

IMPROVED EDUCATION

"The old form of Prussian discipline where a man was not supposed to think held till the South African War, which gradually forced a change in the order of things and it began to be realised that a soldier had to think. It was then that the fact of improved education came to be recognised."

"Personally, as a young officer in the South African War, I recall that the soldier did precious little thinking, and the marked difference between the intelligence of a British soldier in that war and the Great War was really amazing. It improved their coolness and courage in action."

"With the advance of mechanical transport and mechanised units the question of improved education become of even greater importance."

THE BRITISH ARMY

"The standard of education of the British Army has advanced to such a stage that the new War Minister, Mr. Leslie Hore-Bellish, has ordered that all platoons previously commanded by young officers are in future to be commanded by young warrant officers."

"Discipline is most vitally necessary during and after an air raid and in this connection I must say that the Chinese have shown great calmness and discipline during these attacks."

NANKING HORRORS

"Commenting on the horrors in Nanking, Mr. Robert Norton, the journalist, said: 'The Nanking outrages have also had their effect upon the morale of the troops who participated in, or even witnessed them. The units which occupied Nanking have been worthless from the military standpoint ever since. Their own morale and discipline has been destroyed, and the high reputation which the Japanese Army had held among military men has been shattered.'"

The terror pitilessly exposes the lack of any incentive on the part of the Japanese troops to carry through the conquest of China. An army which is bent upon a high mission does not turn aside from its task to indulge in such outrages, and soldiers who feel the incentive of a righteous cause do not need to be baited with licenses to treat the inhabitants of conquered cities as they will."

CHINESE EXECUTIONS

Called upon to thank the speaker, Mr. Yinson Lee said:—"I think Colonel Murrow's talk on discipline is very timely, considering the fact that we are now in the midst of a very big war, and we feel that discipline is necessary."

"In the matter of discipline we have learned very grim lessons. For instance, so many of our military generals have been executed for making serious mistakes. These executions are a great loss to the country when you come to consider the matter, because these men have spent long years in training; a great cost to the country, but nevertheless it is the policy of the Military Affairs Commission to have the strictest discipline in the Army."

"On behalf of the Club I thank Colonel Murrow for his talk."

DAMAGE DONE BY FLOODS IN JAPAN

Y.60,000,000 For Repairs

Nine hundred and thirty-three dead and missing, 3,394 injured, 501,276 houses flooded, property damage, Y.420,000,000.

These statistics on human suffering, read by Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu, the Home Minister, at a recent Cabinet meeting gave the Ministers a detailed picture of the appalling havoc wrought by the recent flood in central and western Japan.

Official circles said an investigation was being carried on by the Ministry's minority experts.

While the content of the memorandum was not revealed, reports from Warsaw indicated the chief complaint was Germany's failure to provide more Polish grammar schools, especially in Silesia.

Another complaint was that local authorities were handicapping the work of Polish cultural societies. The Poles also charged they were being urged to withdraw savings deposits from Polish banks and that propaganda was being spread urging boycott of Polish shops.

German officials said Germans living in Poland still suffered handicaps despite the 1937 agreement.

Germany's minorities problem, which has reached a crucial stage in Czechoslovakia, has also aroused a small Polish group living in eastern parts of Germany to remind the Berlin Government of promises it made under the German-Polish nationality agreement.

Last November Germany and Poland agreed there would be mutual respect for the rights of Germans living in Poland and Poles in Germany.

Recently, the League of Poles in Germany presented a memorandum to Dr. Wilhelm Frick, German minister of the Interior, complaining of cultural and economic hardships which it said its members still suffered despite the agreement.

CHINA'S SPIRIT OF INTERNATIONAL GOODWILL AND CO-OPERATION

Impressions Gained By World Student Delegate

GENERALISSIMO HAILED BY ALL AS THE NATIONAL LEADER

CHINESE NATIONALISM IS NOT NARROW-MINDED but goes with a spirit of international goodwill and co-operation, declared Mr. James Klugmann, member of the International Student Delegation to China, today when asked by a representative of the Central News Agency about his impressions of China after a ten-week tour in the country.

Wherever he went, Mr. Klugmann said, he noticed the goodwill of the Chinese people toward foreigners and the sincerity with which they seek for international co-operation. Even in the war against Japanese aggression the Chinese clearly differentiate the Japanese militarists, their actual enemy, from the Japanese masses for whom they harbour no enmity. He saw posters bearing the words "Down with Japanese Militarists" and "Love the Japanese People," placed side by side.

The enthusiasm with which the Chinese welcomed the delegation in all places, according to Mr. Klugmann, was absolutely spontaneous and not pre-arranged. The delegation had, on their tour, met and talked with Chinese of all walks of life and found them most amicable and sincere.

A second strong impression Mr. Klugmann gained on his tour in China is the unity of the nation. All the Chinese are pledging their unwavering support to the National Government in the present struggle for national existence. All parties, including the Communists, have sunk their differences and joined their lot in the struggle. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is hailed by all as the national leader. Regionalism has disappeared from the country.

COMPOSITE AIRCRAFT'S FLIGHT

even with maximum load on board the task of launching is readily and safely accomplished.

ENTIRELY BRITISH

This new and entirely British aeronautical development has thus received the hall mark of official approval, concluding years of pioneer work in a field untouched by any foreign designer.

At the end of the trials Imperial Airways accepted delivery of the aircraft. The floatplane Mercury carried 1,180 gallons of fuel during the tests, a quantity sufficient for a flight direct to New York in still air. The combined weights of upper and lower component for take-off aggregated more than 45,000 pounds, yet the composite aircraft left the water in the notably short average time of between 17 and 18 seconds.

SAFE "LANDINGS"

Of great importance were the test of the jetison system by which fuel can be disposed of rapidly, an operation that might be necessary to light the load of the Mercury if it had to alight in emergency shortly after taking off. The process of jetisoning 900 gallons of fuel, weighing more than three tons, was completed in less than 15 minutes.

The upper component was also extensively tested during a flight of two hours in which a height of 12,000 feet was reached. Major R. H. Mayo, inventor of the "composite" aircraft, and Captain Wilcockson, of Imperial Airways, who watched the trials, agreed that they had established the feasibility of launching aircraft by this unique method.

The "pick-a-back" plane has made its bow in the form of a flying-boat plus seaplane upper component but landplane versions are just as practicable, and Short-Mayo landplanes of great speed and long range are already well advanced in design.

GERMAN DIPLOMAT RETURN TO JAPAN

Tokyo, July 21.

The German Ambassador to Japan, General Ott, arrived in Yokohama yesterday and was met there by the German Charge d'Affaires, Dr. Holb, and the staff of the German Embassy. Numerous representatives of the National Socialist Party and members of the German colony in Japan were also present.—(Transocean).

TANGANYIKA NAZI CLASH

Dar-es-Salaam, July 21.

The Governor of Tanganyika, Sir Harold MacMichael, has been asked by the Colonial Office to report on the recent trouble in Dar-es-Salaam, when Nazis clashed with the authorities.

It is understood that Nazi leaders appeared in the town during the King's Birthday celebrations wearing brown shirts and Nazi emblems, and when the British National Anthem was played they gave the Nazi salute.—(Reuter).

Pro-Japanese Chinese Shot Dead In S'hai

Shanghai, July 21.

Another prominent pro-Japanese Chinese was assassinated here today. Two Chinese patriots, shot and killed Van Chi-sen, former Chief of the Judicial Department of the Shanghai City Administration, appointed by the Japanese.

One of the assassins was arrested by the police. He had been arrested six months ago on suspicion of complicity in an attempt on the life of T. V. Van, in which the latter was wounded but had been released on account of lack of evidence. It is believed at that time that T. V. Van, well-known lawyer, had been shot only by mistake and the other man, named Van, should have become the victim of the attempt.—(Transocean).

U.S. EMBASSY IN MADRID HIT BY BOMBS

Madrid, July 21.

In the course of a two-hour bombardment, four shells, two of which failed to explode, hit the United States Embassy, which is at present unoccupied.

Air raids on coastal towns and villages continue, Valencia being heavily bombed in the early hours yesterday but fortunately with no casualties.—(Reuter).

OLD CHINESE PORCELAIN

Berlin Collection Sold In London

The sale of the collection of old Chinese porcelain formed by Jakob Goldschmidt, of Berlin, which ended at Christie's recently, should go far to revive the interest of the collector in the productions of the Chinese potter.

Comparatively few lots failed to reach the reserve, and a total of £24,272 was obtained. A New York firm, Messrs. Parrish Watson, bought the chief lot in the sale, giving 1,500gns. for a superb pair of famille jaune vases and covers (12½ in. high), after a keen contest with several of the leading London dealers.

A pair of famille verte and powder-blue vases (17½ in. high) went to Mr. A. Staal, of Amsterdam, at 660gns., and another pair, slightly smaller, fetched 410gns. (Healey). Mr. Staal gave 330gns. for a fine pair of famille noire cups and saucers; and notable famille verte pieces included a pair of 24 in. dishes, which fetched 240gns. (F. Partridge); a pair of vases and covers (14 in. high) which fetched 255gns. (Sparks); and a single vase (17½ in. high) which fetched 165gns. (Hancock).

Some of the teapots aroused keen bidding, a famille verte and powder-blue pair (7½ in. high) going for 195gns., and a famille verte pair (7½ in. high) fetching 180gns. (Hancock).

"HOLY WILLIE'S PRAYER" At Stothely's the MBS. of Burns's poem "Holy Willie's Prayer" evoked a bid of £410, but it is believed that this failed to reach the reserve.

Two interesting series of letters of Lady Hamilton were bought by Messrs. Spink and Son. Twenty-five letters written to Charles Greyville from January, 1782, to 1799, fetched £500, and a collection of 100 letters and documents from various correspondents, of which 84 are addressed to Lady Hamilton and nine to Nelson, fetched 275.

IMPORTANT MILITARY DECISIONS EXPECTED

Japanese Warships Fail To Enter Poyang Lake

NO DAMAGE DONE AT KIUKIANG

Hankow, July 21.

IMPORTANT MILITARY DECISIONS ON THE YANGTSE, around Poyang Lake, are to be expected in view of the Japanese and Chinese troop movements reported here today. The Japanese have dispatched considerable forces, particularly from Hangchow, in Chekiang Province, and Nanking, to Hukow.

Twenty-two Japanese transports are reported to have passed Tatung, about 350 kilometres down the Yangtse from Kiukiang. At the same time several units of the Japanese Air Force are reported to have been transferred from Hangchow to Wuhu and Anking. The Chinese estimate the strength of the Japanese Air Force in the Yangtse Valley at about 300 planes. No major military actions took place in the area east of Kiukiang between Wednesday and Thursday.

The duel between Japanese ships and Chinese batteries on the western shore of Poyang Lake was continued, according to reports received in Hankow today, without any Japanese ships succeeding in entering Poyang Lake from the Yangtse. At the same time Chinese reports confirm the continuous activity of the Japanese Air Force.

NO MAJOR DAMAGE The objectives of the latest raids were once more several towns near Poyang Lake and on the Yangtse up-stream from Kiukiang which was likewise attacked by a great number of bombers without any major damage being reported.

Eighteen Japanese flyers attacked the town of Yuyang in Hunan province and the damage there is also reported to be small.

Chinese troop concentrations are under way with the view to increase the pressure of the continuous Chinese attacks on Hukow, Matang and Pengtse. In an effort to recapture them the Chinese are reported to have succeeded in cutting the Japanese communications between these three towns.

In view of the report, the Japanese have dispatched troops from the Hukow sector, north of the Yangtse, to the region east of Hukow, where increased fighting is expected by the Chinese.—(Transocean).

NAMOA ISLAND RAIDED

Singapore, July 21.

Namoa Island was raided by two Japanese naval planes yesterday. Two bombs were dropped.

One primary school and more than 10 houses at Namoa, Jaoping, east of here, were demolished during the air raid staged by a lone Japanese plane yesterday.

The planes yesterday conducted reconnaissance over a wide area, including Tengkai, Chaoyang, Wallai, Fungshan and Kityang, in eastern Kwangtung.—(Central News).

CHINA'S SUPPORT FOR PARIS PEACE MEETING

Appeal For Material Assistance To Be Made

Hankow, July 21.

A concrete programme for support of the conference to be convened in Paris by the International Peace Campaign to denounce aerial bombardments on open cities has been drawn up by the China branch of the Campaign.

According to the programme, a telegram will be dispatched to the Paris meeting voicing China's support and urging the adoption of effective measures to check Japan's wanton aerial activities in this country.

An appeal will also be made for material assistance to China in her present resistance. Meanwhile, in Hankow, a meeting of representatives from various organisations and business circles will be held to discuss measures for the encouragement of the Chinese people in supporting the Government in air defence.

Pamphlets and handbills will be widely circulated and all means of publicity will be utilised to acquaint the people of air defence measures and the importance and necessity of augmenting the Chinese Air Force.—(Central News).

BRITISH RATINGS ARRIVE IN HANKOW

Hankow, July 21.

The party of 110 British sailors arrived at Wuchang at 10.20 p.m. last night from Kowloon after an uneventful train journey. They will be accommodated temporarily aboard the river vessels Loongwo and Wulin. The party includes eight officers, four of whom are midshipmen.

The naval authorities reiterate that these bluejackets are merely supplementing those already here and will only be called upon to do landing duties in the event of extreme emergency such as the threat to British lives and property.—(Reuter).

Coastal Shipping In War-Time

Vital Part Of National Defence

The valuable service which coastal shipping could render in a national emergency was stressed in broadcast talks by Sir Alfred Read and Captain John Fisher, the representatives of coastal shipping on the Transport Advisory Council.

"Today," said Sir Alfred, "we find coastal shipping steadily regaining the position it formerly enjoyed, that is, before the war caused its temporary disruption in the national service."

"I am confident that it will be found that our coastal shipping has a great, important and expanding function; both as an instrument of commerce and as a vital part of our national defence." Sir Alfred said that it was impossible to give exact figures of the ships engaged in the British coastal trade, but it was safe to say that our entire coastal fleets numbered a thousand vessels.

"These ships," he said, "require the services of 10,000 men aboard and an army of shore workers. Coastal shipping contributes enormously to activities and prosperity of the ports. In the case of the port of London, with its total trade of roughly 60,000,000 tons of shipping annually, the coastal trade accounts for nearly one-third."

Captain John Fisher, speaking of the coastal tramp trade, said that a coastal fleet might number 50 ships, employing some 200 officers and 400 men. Each ship should make one voyage a week—a total of about 2,500 voyages a year.

The average distance of a voyage was more than 200 miles, and the average size of a coasting tramp about 600 tons cargo capacity, so that a fleet of 50 coasters might transport cargo 300,000,000 ton-miles in a year.

Hankow Populace Asked To Co-operate In Anti-Air Raid Precautions

Anticipating Japanese air-raids in the Hankow area on a large scale, Chinese air defence headquarters are now calling on the public for co-operation in the following air defence measures:

1. All identification of persons killed by bombs must be made within three hours, because of the summer heat, otherwise the authorities will proceed with their burial in order to avoid the exposure of decomposed bodies;
2. All public institutions and private individuals must not interfere with the work of the air defence corps and first aid units;
3. Because of the lack of coffins, both public organizations and individuals are urged to donate them, especially for Wuchang and Hanyang;
4. Public organizations and individuals are likewise urged to contribute stretchers and first aid medicines;
5. All able-bodied men and women are asked to give voluntary assistance when first aid units are unable to cope adequately with the situation;
6. Public bodies and individuals are urged to construct dug-outs, but only under the guidance of the air defence authorities;
7. The co-operation of medical men is urged.—(N. C. D. News).

FRENCH MILITARY DISPLAY

The manoeuvre of 700 planes which was to conclude the spectacle, was cancelled apparently owing to lack of time. Only 50 fast pursuit planes made their appearance.

Following the parade the guests went to gala luncheon in the Hall of Mirrors.

EXQUISITE WINES The luncheon was a marvel of French cooking and the most exquisite wines of France were served. The Hall was decorated with orange trees. The footmen, dressed in liveries of the times of Louis the Fourteenth, waited upon 200 guests. After luncheon the Royal party attended a short concert of religious music in the charming chapel of the palace. Then followed an entertainment in the park at Bosquet de Apollon.

The Royal guests returned to Paris by special train in the afternoon.—(Transocean).

THE CUTTY SARK

Most famous of racing tea clipper, the Cutty Sark, has gone to what will presumably be her last anchorage, in the Thames, and it is certain that she will have a worthy welcome from all who regret the passing of "wooden ships and iron men."

The record-making clipper was brought under tow to join the Worcester for use in the general training of cadets.

Her new career of usefulness will begin almost at once, for she is in excellent condition.

Although not old in years as some ships go, for she was built in 1869 at Lamberton, the Cutty Sark still holds records which have not been broken. She was used first as a China tea clipper and then in the Australian wool trade.

One of the outstanding voyages was from England to Melbourne in just under seven days and in twenty-four hours she covered 363 nautical miles. When she was twenty years old she could under favourable conditions pass her rivals in steam with ease.

Fitzsimmons Was 40 When He Tried To Win Back Title

"Ruby Bob" Fitzsimmons was 40 years old before he learned that they never come back.

Fitz never was more than an overgrown middleweight. He won that crown in 1897. He lost it in his first defence against Jim Jeffries two years later.

He was called "the freak of the ring" because he was so small. He originated the shift and the famous "solar plexus" blow which he used in winning the title.

In 1902 Fitz decided to come back, even though he was 40 years old. He had seen Jeffries knock out Corbett when "gentleman Jim" tried to regain the title. But Fitzsimmons, even though he knew he would be at a tremendous physical disadvantage, still dreamed of being champion again.

Ten thousand fans jammed into a circus tent at 14th and Valencia Streets, San Francisco, to see the scrap on the night of July 25, 1902. In Jeffries' corner when he arrived was a bouquet. That was supposed to make him mad. And it was reported—although never proved—that Fitzsimmons had soaked the bandages on his hands in codlione so that they became hard when they dried out.

Thirty seconds after the first round started, Fitzsimmons had Jeffries' face bleeding. He chopped, side-stepped and chopped some more. Every time he hit Jeffries he drew blood. For eight rounds Bob cut, slashed and battered the champion. In the seventh he landed a hard blow over the left eye and the blood poured over both fighters.

Before the round ended, Jeffries' right glove was soaked with blood from wiping the cut. The blood blinded him.

Later Jeffries said: "I took a terrific slaughter—it was a classic, no fooling."

In the eighth round the champion came out and bulled into Fitzsimmons without trying to box. He backed the challenger into a corner. Fitzsimmons landed six times with a left. Jeffries feigned his guard down. Fitzsimmons moved in and started a right. But Jeffries beat him to the punch and hooked a left to the liver. It was a solid blow.

Fitzsimmons went down. He rolled over on the canvas, gasping. He tried to get up, but he couldn't.

SIR ABE BAILEY

Gets Scout's "V.C."

Sir Abe Bailey, the world's bravest sportsman, who kept smiling though he lost both legs at seventy-four, has received an honour he will prize above all the many honours he has won.

He has been awarded by Lord Baden-Powell, Chief Scout, the Cornwell Scout Decoration, "for exceptional courage in facing intense suffering over a long period."

The Cornwell Scout Decoration is named after John Travers Cornwell, the seventeen-years-old Boy Scout V.C. who was mortally wounded in the light cruiser Chester at the Battle of Jutland.

"Sir Abe is very proud indeed at having been awarded this decoration," a member of Sir Abe Bailey's household told a reporter.

All the world has admired the fortitude displayed by Sir Abe Bailey.

Propped up in a wheel-chair, he watched his horse run in the Derby with all his old enthusiasm. He had travelled from South Africa specially for the race.

He is a vice-president of the Boy Scouts Association.

IRISH GOLF TOURNEY

Port Marnock, July 21.

The leaders were Arthur Lees with 74-72-148, Cotton 74-75-149, Burton 76-74-150, P. J. Mahon 74-77-151, Jarman 70-81-151, Easterbrook 73-78-151, James Bruen 78-78-154, Sid Brews (South Africa) 78-75-153, A. D. Locke (South Africa) 73-80-153, Len Nettelford (Australia) 78-84-163.

Jarman created a new course record with a round of 70.

The Australian entry just managed to qualify. He had an "albatross" from 517 yards in the 16th and finished up with a total of 183.—(Reuter.)

SHOOTING AT BISLEY

National Trophy Won By England

The National Challenge Trophy was won by England at Bisley for the eighth year in succession.

The score, averaging just short of 98 for the team of 20, was a very good one for the day, for the light was difficult, particularly at 600 yards.

Scotland had the two best individual totals—120 by Lieutenant J. H. Crawford, R. N., and 102 by Cadet E. H. Robinson, London University O. T. C.—but was beaten by 18 points.

Scotland has won the match 11 times, but has won only twice since it was restarted in 1920.

GARCIA TO HAVE BOUT WITH ARMSTRONG

Celestino Garcia, one of the hardest-punching welterweights in the business, is confident he can whip Henry Armstrong, the Los Angeles Negro, who holds both the welter and featherweight crowns.

The two are scheduled tentatively for a title bout in Los Angeles next September.

"I'm getting the greatest opportunity of my life and I'm going to make the best of it," warned the young Filipino.

Armstrong, he admitted, is a great fighter.

"He's good, sure, but I don't think he's good enough to beat big welterweights," said Garcia, who boasts an impressive string of victories most of them by knockouts.

LOST THROUGH ANXIOUSNESS

Garcia believes he has improved 100 per cent since he lost to Barney Ross in 1935 who floored him in the first round.

"I lost that fight because I was too anxious," Garcia said. "My punches were wild, and Ross, experienced and smart, knew how to pull out of danger."

He said he has shortened his punches, which gives him considerably more power and accuracy. He tried out his new style on July 4, knocked out Jackie Burke, of Ogden, Utah, in the fourth round of a ten-round.

Benny Lynch's Titles Taken Away By Board

London, July 21.
The British Boxing Board of Control has fined Benny Lynch £200 for failing to weigh in at 8 st. for his flyweight title fight against Jackie Jurich at Glasgow on June 29.
It was thought, however, that Lynch would still retain his British and European flyweight titles as neither was at stake; but the British Boxing Board of Control has declared that Lynch has forfeited both these titles, which are now regarded as vacant. (Reuter).

JAPANESE RESIDENTS IN SHANGHAI

Shanghai, July 21.
The Association of Japanese residents of Hankow which removed its offices from Hankow to Tokyo last year has now established its headquarters in this city.
The step was evidently taken because the Japanese believe that the Japanese residents will soon be able to return to Hankow. The Japanese colony in Hankow played an important role in that city from the numerical as well as commercial point of view.
When the headquarters were at Tokyo, the association maintained a close contact with its members rendering assistance to the Japanese fugitives from Hankow. (Transocean).

Anti-Cholera Vaccine For China

1,000,000 DOSES FROM THE PHILIPPINES

Manila, July 21.
The Philippine Red Cross announces that the first shipment of anti-cholera vaccine for China, consisting of a million doses, will reach Hong Kong on August 1.
The assurance is also given that China will receive the full six million doses at "much lower" cost than the two-and-a-half cents a dose in order to enable the Philippines to make further donations to the stricken people of China.
Confident that China's full requirements can be fulfilled by Manila, the Red Cross has cabled Singapore inquiring how many doses are now required to complete the original number of six million.
In the meantime, the China Relief Committee of Manila expects to raise funds for a further two million doses which will be donated to the Chinese Government. (Reuter).

HEAVY FINES FOR HAWKERS

Cholera Regulations Infringed

Amongst the unusually large number of hawkers charged with breaches of the hawking ordinances, were fourteen persons who were heavily fined for violating the Emergency Regulations which were enforced on account of the cholera outbreak.
To check its spread the authorities had introduced the regulations forbidding the sale of ice drinks and peeled fruits, etc.
Since the introduction of the new regulations, a number of people had been arrested and fined. The police have made every effort to prevent the sale of the prohibited articles of food and since then only a very limited number of cases were brought before the Courts.
Detective-Sergeant Dewar led a surprise raid on the various ferries belonging to the Yau-mat Company on Wednesday and this resulted in the arrest of the fourteen people who were found hawking peeled fruits, pine apple and pear on board the ferry launches.
Imposing a sentence of 14 days imprisonment on each of the fourteen, with the alternative of a fine of $20 each, Mr. Edwards issued a warning to the effect that any further arrests from the ferries would be more severely dealt with. He stressed the danger of selling the prohibited food on board the ferries where so many passengers travelled to and fro daily.

Gold Rush In Bulgaria

Sofia, July 21.
A gold rush has set in the region of north-western Bulgaria where several British and French companies have obtained gold mining licences. South African and South American gold prospectors in the service of these companies have started work. Several hundred people are arriving daily from all parts of Bulgaria to participate in the search for gold. (Transocean).

Japanese Make Serious Bid For Yuanku

Chengchow, July 21.
More than 500 Japanese troops are claimed to have been slain in action during a series of assaults on the Chinese positions at Yuanku on the north bank of the Yellow River in south Shansi in the last week.

Due to its strategic position the Japanese military authorities have made serious bids for Yuanku, and in the past seven days no less than a dozen attacks have been launched, which were invariably repulsed by stubborn Chinese defence.

Japanese reinforcements are being rushed to strengthen the much depleted forces there in preparation for a renewed offensive.

Military reports place the number of Japanese troops who directed an attack towards the west from north Honan at roughly 7,000 men. In the last fortnight, they have attacked Tsincheng, Kaoping, Yangcheng, Sinshui, Tsiyuan, Shaoyuan and other points held by Chinese forces in south Shansi. (Central News).

JAPANESE ATTACK ON HSIASHIEN BEATEN BACK

Tungkwan, July 21.
A mixed regiment of about 1,000 Japanese infantry and artillery forces, launching a furious attack on Hsiashien in south Shansi, was beaten back with heavy losses towards Anyi.

A large area to the west of Hsiashien and Changtichen has now been cleared of Japanese troops. (Central News).

CHINESE RECAPTURE WENSHANG

Loyang, July 21.
Wenshang, north of Tsinling in Shantung, was recently recaptured by Chinese forces, according to military reports received here today. (Central News).

JAPANESE DRIVEN OUT OF TUNGCHENG

Shangcheng, Anhwei, July 21.
Chinese troops have retaken Tungcheng, about 50 kilometres north of Anking. The small Japanese garrison put up only feeble resistance and fled the city.

With the recapture, Japanese communications between Anking and Hefei, in Central Anhwei, have been disrupted.

It is learned that the bulk of the Japanese troops at Hefei has been dispatched to Wuhu, en route to the Yangtze front. (Central News).

SHOT FIRED IN CAFE

The Jolly Rodger Cafe, Nathan Road, Mongkok, was the scene of a fight between two soldiers of the 1st Battalion, the Middlesex Regiment and two European police officers on Tuesday evening, in the course of which a revolver shot was fired.
It is understood that there will be a departmental inquiry.
